For a bunny who looks awake:

Instead of embroidering the sleeping face in step 6, use this alternate face. You will do the same steps to embroider it on, except for the eyes:

For the eyes, cut out the pattern piece A for a guide, then trace it twice onto felt using a disappearing marker (flip it over for the second piece).

Cut out the felt pieces and secure them to the felt eye circles with dots of fabric glue. Use two strands of a six-strand length of matching embroidery floss to sew the eyes on using a backstitch, staying very close to the edge.

Then use all six strands in a contrasting color and backstitch an outline around the eyes with an extra stitch at each corner, as shown.

Last step is to use white floss to add one french knot highlight in each eye.
